MODEL EDUCATION HR POLICY: ACADEMIES AND MATs

Title: Equality and Diversity Policy

Date: September 2016

SCOPE

This policy is applicable to all employees of Alsager School including teaching, support staff and its student body. It also applies to job applicants and volunteers. Alsager School recognises the diversity of the community it serves and its responsibilities. It is committed to equal opportunities for all members of the school community and recognizes its duty to promote equality of opportunity and to promote good relations between those of different races, religions and nationalities.

AIMS

To set out the responsibilities to ensure that everyone is treated with dignity and respect, and that the Alsager School acts within equal opportunities legislation. The policy also covers definitions of equality and diversity, discrimination; direct and indirect, and harassment and victimisation as defined by the Equality Act 2010.

The principle of non-discrimination will inform all aspects of Alsager School in all of its dealings with students, prospective students, staff, prospective staff, parents and others involved with the Academy including members of the community using Academy facilities.

INTRODUCTION

Alsager School is firmly committed to promoting and complying with equality of opportunity in all aspects of employment including recruitment, pay, terms and conditions of service, development and training. Alsager School will take positive steps to create an employment culture through its governing body, senior leadership team, employees and volunteers, in which people feel confident of being treated with fairness, dignity and tolerance irrespective of the characteristics that they share or their individual differences.

This policy complements other equality policies that are available within the school.

POLICY STATEMENT

No employee, volunteer, job applicant or student will receive less favourable treatment on the grounds of their gender or transgender, marital status or civil partnership, race, religion or belief, sexual orientation, age, disability, pregnancy or maternity or caring responsibility or will be disadvantaged by conditions or requirements which cannot be justified.

DEFINITIONS

Equality

Equality means treating everyone with fairness and respect and recognising the needs of individuals.

Alsager School will ensure that they promote an understanding of equality amongst its student body through the curriculum and pastoral care as well as complying with the legislation and principles across all areas of employment.

Diversity

Diversity acknowledges there are differences between people. Alsager School values and respects that variety of backgrounds, perspectives, values and beliefs that a diverse workforce brings to the school.

Alsager School will promote and celebrate diversity. The school recognises that that it can only deliver high quality services through its employees, and that it values and welcomes the perspectives and contributions that a diverse workforce brings to their roles, and will endeavour to secure a workforce that is representative of the wider community.

Direct discrimination

The Equality Act 2010 defines direct discrimination as occurring when someone is treated less favourably than another person because of a protected characteristic they have, are perceived to have, or because they are associated with someone who has a protected characteristic.

The protected characteristics, as set out in Section 4 of the Equality Act, are:

- age;
- disability or a long term health condition;
- gender re-assignment;
- marriage and civil partnership;
- pregnancy and maternity;
- race (which includes ethnic origin, colour and nationality);
- religion or belief;
- sex (previously referred to as gender); and
- sexual orientation.

Indirect discrimination

The Equality Act 2010 defines indirect discrimination can occur when a condition, rule or policy in the school is applied to everyone but particularly disadvantages people who share a protected characteristic.

Indirect discrimination can be justified if you can show that you acted reasonably in managing your school, i.e. that it is 'a proportionate means of achieving a legitimate aim'. The aim must be legitimate, and a real objective consideration such as the economic needs of running the school. But arguing that it is more expensive not to discriminate is unlikely to be considered a valid justification. Being proportionate means being fair and reasonable, including showing that you have looked at “less discriminatory” alternatives to any decision made.

Alsager School is committed to developing employment policies, procedures and practices that do not discriminate unfairly or unlawfully against anyone and that promote equality of opportunity for all.

Harassment and victimisation

Harassment, as defined by the Equality Act 2010, is unwanted conduct or behaviour related to a protected characteristic which has the purpose or effect of violating an individual's dignity or creating an intimidating, hostile, degrading, humiliating or offensive environment for that individual.

Victimisation, as defined by the Equality Act 2010, is where an employee suffers less favourable treatment because they have brought proceedings or given evidence or information relating to such proceedings, or has alleged that discrimination occurred under relevant legislation.

Alsager School will not accept harassment and victimisation of any kind and perpetrators are liable to action under the school's disciplinary policy and the school's Behaviour Policy.

THE EQUALITY DUTY

Public Sector Equality Duty (PSED)

As public bodies, schools must must comply with the Public Sector Equality Duty \(PSED\) introduced by the Equality Act 2010, which requires schools to have due regard to the need to:

- Eliminate unlawful discrimination, harassment and victimisation and any other conduct that is prohibited by or under the Act; by removing or minimising disadvantages suffered by people due to their protected characteristic.
- Advance equality of opportunity between different groups/people, who share a relevant protected characteristic and groups/people who do not; by taking steps to meet the needs of people from protected groups where these are different from the needs of other people.
- Foster good relations between different groups/people who share a relevant protected characteristic and persons who do not share it; by encouraging people from protected groups to participate in public life or in other activities where their participation is disproportionately low.
- Having due regard involves thinking consciously about how the school's existing and proposed policies and decisions impact on equality.
