MODERN LANGUAGES AT ALSAGER SCHOOL

Modern Languages forms part of the Communication Faculty which includes MFL, Business, Computer Science, ICT and Economics. We have a staffing complement of six full-time language teachers. The established subjects are French, German and Spanish. Pupils at Alsager experience creative and engaging lessons that stretch and challenge all abilities.

At Key Stage 3 all pupils are taught one language, with half the year studying an additional language. Pupils have 6 periods of MFL per fortnight. Languages are popular at Alsager School and we have seen a significant increase in the number of pupils opting to continue with a language. We also have a significant number of dual linguists at GCSE.

At Key stage 4 pupils study the foreign language for four periods a fortnight. We currently use Studio, Stimmt and Viva course books and use the AQA examination board. The languages department has an excellent record of success and its GCSE results are significantly higher than the national average. Last year, 83.9% of students achieved a grade 4 or above in a GCSE language.

All three languages have been successfully taught at A level. Students will all follow the AQA syllabus. Much of the teaching is based on a variety of authentic materials and current internet sources.

We recognise the importance of setting languages in context and organise regular trips to Germany and Spain. These trips are always extremely popular with our pupils. Other extra-curricular activities also include visits to local universities and workshops with neighbouring schools.

Modern Languages has superb facilities: all classrooms have interactive whiteboards and as part of our continued drive to develop language skills and support independent learning we have a Sanako multimedia computer language laboratory. The Learning Resource Centre and Sixth Form Area also allow students to pursue independent study.

The successful candidate will be well qualified and able to teach German or Spanish to GCSE. The ability to offer a second language at KS3/4 would be advantageous. It is vital that staff are flexible, hardworking and keen to maintain their expertise in the target language. A willingness to participate in visits abroad will also be desirable.

Alsager School expects high standards of both pupils and staff and provides a friendly environment working in teams. We are dedicated to supporting all of our staff and we have an extensive training programme in place. Alsager School is an alliance of the Holmes Chapel Teaching School and we work very closely with local secondary schools developing and sharing practices.
